REPRESENTING 4-H AND F.F.A. (Future Farmers of America) Ted Brewer, Richard Adamson, Tonya Harris and Shirlee Gick

raise the flag of the United States and the 4-H flag during ceremonies at the Putnam County Fairgrounds, Sunday.

Opening day of Fair marked with Dress Revue, dedication

The 1968 Putnam County Fair opened Sunday afternoon with 197 girls staging the 4-H Dress Revue.

Before a backdrop with the theme of the show, "Fashion Forecast," depicting the three stages of woman's dress, Mini Midi, and Maxi, the girls mod-the flag pole, located near the north entrance of the Community Building, was dedicated in memory of Ronnie Toney, a 4-H member and junior leader who was killed in an automobile accident several years ago.

The Rev. Kyle Miller delivered the invocation. Circuit Court Judge Francis Hamilton then addressed the crowd and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Toney, parents of Ronnie Toney. He discussed the importance of 4-H and the role it plays in creating better citizens and a better America. The United States flag and the 4-H flag were raised by members of 4-H and Future Farmers of America (F.F.A.).

Sunday night at the Interdenominational Church Service, state representative John Thomas, Brazil, spoke on the theme, "A Nation Under God."

A list of girls who placed in honor groups in Dress Revue competition follows:

Summer fun draws to close, baseball action tonight

The Summer Recreation Program of the Greencastle Community Schools enters its final week beginning Monday.

In the baseball phase of recreation, the Legion team has wrapped up the pennant or league championship and is now battling the Moose, Elks and Kiwanis in the play-offs. The play-off championship game is scheduled for tonight at 5:30 p.m.

Babe Ruth will hold closing activities Tuesday night with a family pitch-in dinner and a splash party. Babe Ruth families are invited to Robe Ann Park for the supper at 6:30 p.m. Swimming will begin at 9 p.m.

Monday night is also skating night in the gym at the high school. Approximately 40 skaters participated last week in the new recreational offering. One hundred pairs of skates with plastic wheels are available for a twenty five cent maintenance charge at the door at 7 p.m. Skaters should wear shoes that will support clamp-on type skates. Skaters may take their own skates if they have wood or plastic wheels.

Summer recreation 1968 will end the most successful year Friday. Success is based upon total participation and attendance figures. Over 1500 individuals have taken advantage of one or more recreational offerings this summer. Many of these individuals have participated almost every day in one or more programs. Ladies softball, skating and WorkRecreation are new activities which have been successful additions to the program.

Leaders meet on train

By GERD KRIWANKE
CIERNA NAD TISOU, Czechoslovakia (UPI)—Czech and Soviet leaders met on a train parked in this village today in an attempt to peacefully settle their crisis that the Russians have threatened to end by force.

A ring of blue uniformed Czech policemen surrounded the village and train, keeping all but local residents a quarter mile from the confrontation of the Soviet Communist Party Politburo and the Czech party presidium.

But viewers outside the police line could look across the flat muddy fields, near the Soviet borders, and see the two trains of green passenger coaches parked at the Cierna railway station.

In this village—whose name in English means Glassboro—the Czechs were defending their right to liberalize the face of communism in their country.

Area girls compete for title of Queen

The 1967 Putnam County Fair Queen, Vicki Judy, will present a crown to a new queen tonight.

Seven girls will compete for the title at 8 p.m. in the outside arena. They are Rhonda Sutherland, Russellville; E n a Whitaker, Coatsville; S h a r o n Stringer, Fillmore; Karen Hutcheson, Reelsville; Janet Hennon, Roachdale; Linda New, Greencastle; and Becky McFarland, Bainbridge.

Judges for the event will be Mary Elberg, Miss Indianapolis 1968; Sid Collins, WIBC radio, the "Voice of the Indianapolis 500"; and Joan Angelepolous, fashion coordinator Davids on Indiana Fur Co., and a model.

Judging of the contest will be based on beauty and personality. The winner of the contest will participate in the Indiana State Fair Queen Contest.

The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sutherland, Box 28, Russellville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitaker, Cloverdale; Mrs. Dorothy M. Stringer, Coatsville Route 1; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hutcheson, Reelsville Route 1; Mr. and Mrs. Reed Hennon, Box 118, Roachdale; Mr. and Mrs. Woodson New, Greencastle Route 1; and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McFarland, Bainbridge Route 1.

Cast begins rehearsals for "The Heiress"

Rehearsals are in progress for the Putnam County Playhouse production of "The Heiress," to be presented Aug. 8, 9, and 10 at Speech Hall.

A cast of seasoned performers, under the direction of James Elrod, will dramatize the play which was adapted to the screen. The movie brought star Olivia de Havilland the coveted "Oscar" for her portrayal of Catherine. Adapted from Henry James "Washington Square," "The Heiress" is a sizzling room drama of cosmopolitan life in the mid-1850's. The story tells of the facade, infidelity and opportunism within the framework of a courtship.

The veteran cast includes James Elrod, who has directed and performed in many playhouse productions, as Dr. Sloper. Catherine, the heroine, will be played by Bunny Zenor, Jeffersonville, who is making her initial performance with summer theatre. John Van Meter, director of last year's "Oklahoma," will play Morris Townsend, Catherine's suitor. Aunt Penniman, the match-maker, will be played by Mary Frances Strain, public relations chairman for the Playhouse, making her third stage appearance.

Those appearing in supporting roles include Value Williams, DePauw registrar, remembered as Mrs. Gibbs in "Our Town," Pat Gammon, making her fourth appearance; Jean Horn, who appeared in "You Can't Take It With You," and Roberta Clinton and George Henry, making their first Playhouse appearances.

Search for escapee

PUTNAMVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—Authorities searched for Gary Moore, 18, Columbus, who escaped from the Indiana State Farm Sunday afternoon. Moore was serving a second-degree burglary term.

Arrested

Pleasant D. Evans, age 29, 606 Howard St., was arrested on Sycamore St. at 4:15 a.m., Saturday, on charges of public intoxication. City Policeman James Baugh made the arrest.

J a m e s S. Terrell, age 25, Greencastle Route 3, was arrested on North Indiana St. on charges of public intoxication. Officer James Phipps made the arrest at 12:20 a.m., Saturday.

Howard L. Moore, Greencastle Route 1, was charged with disregarding an automatic traffic signal at Washington and Indiana Sts., Saturday, at 6:05 a.m. The arrest was made on Locust St. by Officer Baugh.

Sheriff Bob Albright arrested Lonnie Ervin, age 25, San Antonio, Texas, Sunday at 10 a.m. on charges of theft by deception.

National Guard moves into Gary

By United Press International
National Guardsmen stood by in riotously troubled Gary, Ind., and Grand Rapids, Mich., today as their counterparts vacated Cleveland, Ohio, left bitter and divided by its violence of last week.

Teen-agers in Pacifica, Calif., protesting an anti-littering law, overpowered police armed with billy clubs and mace before reinforcements could be brought in to restore order Sunday night.

About 350 guardsmen were on "armory alert" in and near Gary today, maintaining an uneasy calm forced on the steel-making city which had erupted in violence the previous night.

A dawn-to-dusk curfew, bans on gas and liquor sales, heavy police patrolling and comparatively cool temperatures helped calm the city of 180,000—half Negro.

City records second fatality, services set for Jerry King

Funeral services for Jerry A. King, age 20, 1123 Avenue "E", who died early Saturday morning of injuries sustained in a one-car accident, will be conducted Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the Whitaker Funeral Home. The Rev. Avery Lane will officiate. Burial will be in Forest Hill Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

King died when the car he was driving apparently went out of control about 200 feet east of First St. on Avenue "E", and struck a tree. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the Putnam County Hospital.

The death marked the second

More than 110 arrests were made in Gary Sunday night and early today, most for curfew violations. Five were arrested for carrying weapons.

Early Sunday "a coalition of youth gangs opposed to motorcycle gangs" sparked violence in the city's midtown ghetto area which didn't end until six persons, including a fireman fighting a blaze, were wounded by gunfire. Three stores were set afire, 10 suffered window damage and 47 persons were arrested.

State police, Chicago city police and Cook County (Chicago) sheriff's deputies were called in to help the beleaguered city. The Chicago contingent left when the guard arrived.

The guard also stood by at Grand Rapids where the weekend's disorders began with a n outbreak of arson Friday night.

More than 200 state, county and city police patrolled a square-mile area of Grand Rapids early today where a tightly enforced curfew and a ban on gas and liquor sales was in effect.

Sixteen arrests were made during the night in the Dutch city of 205,000 raising to 70 the total arrested during the three nights. At least 15 firebombings were reported Sunday night, but most were minor.

Photographers Beaten

Two National Broadcasting Co. photographers from Chicago were beaten by Cleveland police Sunday.

The incident was the only one Sunday as police patrols restored a semblance of normalcy to the city rocked last week by sniper fire that killed 10 persons, including three policemen.

The 3,000 National Guardsmen, called in to help quell the disorders, left the city Sunday night—but it wasn't an end to its problems.

The Fraternal Order of Police planned to submit a list of grievances to Negro Mayor Carl Stokes over his handling of the violence.

It took 50 police from communities surrounding Pacifica to form a wedge and drive out 125 youngsters who grew unruly when they began picketing a shopping center's stores in protest of a new city ordinance prohibiting loitering in the center.

Sheriff Bob Albright arrested Lonnie Ervin, age 25, San Antonio, Texas, Sunday at 10 a.m. on charges of theft by deception.

Putnam Circuit Court

In Circuit Court action Friday, Darrell Cavaness, age 22, Roachdale, entered a plea of guilty to charges of disturbing the peace. The case was continued generally.

Judge Francis Hamilton heard a plea of not guilty from Marc E. Beard, age 18, Bloomington, to charges of reckless driving. Bond was set at $500 and trial was set for July 30 at 9 a.m.

A plea of guilty was entered by William T. Nanovsky, age 19, to charges of furnishing alcoholic beverages to a minor. He was fined $25 and costs and given until Aug. 7 to pay. He was also placed on probation for six months.

Howard R. Burns, who appeared before Judge Hamilton July 11 facing charges of theft by deception, re-entered the court room Friday afternoon. He reversed his original plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty.

At the July 11 hearing, Burns faced a $5000 bond and trial was set for Aug. 12.

Friday, Judge Hamilton ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Trial was set for Aug. 16 at 1:30 p.m.

Club members travel to Indy for musical

The Marionettes Extension Homemakers Club met July 23 at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Phillips.

The meeting was opened with a demonstration in flower arranging. Betty Phillips detailed the art, instructing members to cut flowers a day early and start them in lukewarm water. She also suggested that no two flowers in an arrangement should be of the same height.

The song of the month was "America, the Beautiful." Reports of safety, gardening, outlook, citizenship and cheer were read.

Fun night was set for August. Members of the club will go to the Star-light Musicals Aug. 6 at 6 p.m. Members will meet at the "Y" Cafe on U.S. Highway 40 to leave for Indianapolis at 6 p.m.

Refreshments were served. A rummage sale was conducted after the meeting.

Laotian prince makes suprise statement

PARIS (UPI)—Laotian Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma, in a surprise statement, today called for the complete cessation of U.S. bombing raids on North Vietnam, and the prompt formation of a coalition government in Saigon "wedding" the present pro-American regime and its insurgent enemies.

Speaking at a Laotian Embassy news conference, the visiting premier said he was certain a total cessation of the American air strikes, even without a reciprocal restraint by North Vietnam, would help get the Hanoi-Washington talks off the ground without raising great risks for the United States.

Professing optimism about the future course of Vietnamese developments, the Laotian neutralist leader said he considered the current lull in Viet Cong attacks in South Vietnam a hopeful development and possibly a goodwill gesture on the part of the National Liberation Front.

Youth abducts policewomen

CHICAGO (UPI)—A long-haired youth who cried "I am God" commandeered a squad car with two policewomen inside today and took them on a 100 mile-an-hour ride before he was captured at a road block.

Police identified the youth as Ilc Bradmer, 18. They said he entered the car while the policewomen were stopped for a traffic light, got behind the steering wheel and headed for Lake Michigan. He drove down Lake Shore Drive at speeds exceeding 100 m.p.h.

Geraldine Perry and Joan Halloran, youth division officers, kept their revolvers in their holsters but managed to radio for help while the wild-eyed youth struggled with the wheel and repeatedly screamed "I am God."

They soon ran into a roadblock. The youth bolted from the car, but was quickly caught. He was charged with kidnapping, robbery, battery, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. The women were not hurt.

DEAR HELOISE: This cute idea was given to me by a young newlywed.

When hanging crisscross curtains, pull up the top ruffle of the curtain next to the window so that it stands up at the top of the window and looks just like a top double-ruffle.

It adds so much to the window.—MRS. J.B.

DEAR HELOISE: I put a coat or two of asphalt roofing paint on the inside bottom and lower sides of my garbage and trash cans and let it dry thoroughly to prevent rusting.—F.G.

DEAR HELOISE: I haunt rummage sales and many times pick up a dress (for a dollar or so) with lots of lovely buttons — sometimes expensive ones for much less than I would pay in the store. Not mentioning the zipper and the material.

If it has a full, gathered skirt, I can usually make two pillowcases, or perhaps a table cloth for my breakfast table, or a nice apron or two. Sure saves on my budget. If the dress is embroidered organza, or something sheer and nice with a full skirt, I can make lovely kitchen or bathroom curtains.—F.Y.

DEAR HELOISE: Recently I baked a ham and wanted to glaze it with something.

So I mixed a half cup of apple jelly with a cup and a half of dark corn sirup. Then poured it over the ham the last 30 minutes of baking. Basting it several times until well-glazed.

I used apple jelly because that's what I had on hand.

but most any kind would work as well.

My family said it was the best ham I had ever baked. —Mrs. M.C.D.

DEAR HELOISE: In regard to the letter written by a doctor about wearing golf shoes when mowing the lawn, I have found another advantage to this practice.

The cleats in the shoes put small holes in the sod that help aerate the lawn. I'm sure those who wear golf shoes now have greener lawns than before.—D.J.W.

DEAR HELOISE: Everyone knows how good the bed feels when you put on clean linens, but it would be hard to keep up with all that laundry if you changed them every day. My husband was a bed patient for many months and I liked to make it as comfortable for him as possible.

I changed the linens every other day. And on the days when I didn't change them, I took them off and hung them on the line to air while I straightened his room. Then brought the linens back in off the line and remade the bed. Made the bed feel real clean and fresh.—Mrs. B.C.

DEAR HELOISE: When the weather is real hot, be sure to open the windows from the top as well as the bottom to let the hot air out.—W.V.M.

DEAR HELOISE: On a car trip with the children, take along a large, blank scrapbook and some cellophane tape. Then let the children keep the scrapbook of travel souvenirs up to date as they go along.

Letter from London

By Lawrence Taylor

Yesterday was one of the few clear days we have had—a perfect day for a rally and protest march. Several thousand people gathered to hear speeches, show support for the North Vietnamese and march to the American embassy in Grosvenor Square. The occasion was the fourteenth anniversary of the signing of the Geneva agreement, an event which both sides point to when talking about the other's "bad faith." How many were protesters and how many spectators it is impossible to determine. The scene was Trafalgar Square in the heart of the city set aside to commemorate the famous battle. It is dominated by a tall column bearing the statue of Lord Nelson, hero of that fight who supposedly has a view of the sea. Had he looked down between his feet he would have seen quite a sight. Those gathered below were not merely anti-American imperialist and puppet leaders" to use their label but pro Ho, which added a little different flavor from those demonstrations in the United States. Giant pictures of this leader were on display in addition to hundreds of North Vietnamese flags and banners. For sale by rather long-haired vendors were arm bands, buttons, shopping bags, and literature. A collection was being taken for medical aid to North Vietnamese civilians.

Speakers from various organizations addressed the group. Their topics ranged from atrocities in the war, the present British governments support of President Johnson, to the need to destroy America's domination of the economic world and communist for the workers of the world. The featured speaker who arrived late, was a high-ranking communist official from Britain. From his speech I thought he was at the wrong rally since Viet Nam didn't place a main theme.

I moved back to get a shot of the whole scene and met an American sailor on leave. I asked him what his immediate reaction to the event was and he shrugged his shoulders and said "a little anger and a lot of frustration." The bobbies on duty had asked him not to go into the square fearing an incident. After about two hours of speeches, the group began what was to have been a peaceful march through the streets to the American embassy. After the march began, I started walking toward their ultimate destination by another route as did hundreds of others. I never caught sight of the protesters again but the sirens and shouts from Park Lane told the story. I rushed home to watch the television news at six. The marchers had been met by a wall of police who wished to keep them away from the embassy where damage was feared. The group turned in a run and went to the American-owned Hilton Hotel and Playhouse Club across from Hyde Park breaking windows in these buildings and damaging automobiles along the way. By the time police could move to the site the crowd had scattered into the mammoth Hyde Park where they tried to set up barricades. In the battle which followed twenty three policemen and fourteen demonstrators were hospitalized. "Police brutality" was charged by the leaders but the casualty list shows something else. Forty two men, four women, and two children will appear in court today or tomorrow.

An eventful Sunday in London has ended—an event which is as difficult to understand as the war they were protesting. Why a demonstration? Why a march? Why violence toward private property or American owned firms? What will be the resulting attitude by the public? Was peace in Viet Nam made a step closer or farther from our grasp? I think its too soon after the event for me even to make a statement. Perhaps there will be time at a later date to analyze the little battle of July 21 in Hyde Park.

Life in London continues with the bustle of a big city on a rainy Monday morning.

Until later,
Larry

TORR'S RESTAURANT

5 Miles South on 43 -- Greencastle

Letter to the editor

To the Editor:

Residents of Madison Township have no fire protection, except through the generosity of Bailbridge, Reelsville and the Indiana State Farm. Within the past three years several disastrous fires have occurred in the township, with at least one death resulting.

The recent home building boom in the township points up the need for fire protection.

Several interested citizens have held discussion meetings and some suggestions were proposed. But so far nothing has been completed.

Some money from the proceeds of the annual Ice Cream Socials held at No. 10 School has been pledged to the support of a Volunteer Fire Department. Local merchants, understanding the need of Madison Township, have generously donated to the worthy cause.

A partial list of the contributing merchants follows: Moores Shoe Store, Books Plus, Morrison's Tire Store, Herriotts Paint Store, Headley Hardware, Farm Bureau Co-op, Coca Cola, Ron and Ken's Barber Shop, Montgomery Ward, Ellis Oil Co., Goodman Texaco, Thomas Ditching Service, Liston Standard Oil, Donelson's Drugs, Poor and Co., Fleenor's Drugs, Mac's Mens Store, Hillman Jewelers, Shetstone Realty, Milton's Posey Patch, Torr's Restaurant, Ace Hardware, Moore's, Fairway Restaurant, Prevo's, Lancaster Gulf Station, Putnam Motors, Violets Beauty Shop, Coan Drugs, J.C. Penny, Rus-Seils, H o u c k Music Store, Barrett Supply, College Shop, Willis Clodfelter, Thomas General Store in Lena, and the Madison Township Farm Bureau.

Residents of Madison Township thank all of the merchants and everyone who donated foods or helped make the Ice Cream Social the success that it was.

Approximately 300 families live and work in the township or nearby. Surely they have need of fire protection and surely they have pride enough to work towards the establishment of a fire department in the near future.

A township-wide meeting is planned for mid-August for more discussion. Watch for the announced date of the meeting.

Letter to the Editor:

"An Enemy of the People"

Yes indeed, people ought to realize what an underhanded organization the John Birch Society really is. Dorothy Healey Connolly, former chairman of the Communist Party in Los Angeles County and spokesman for the communists on the West Coast said that if we (the communists) do not destroy the John Birch Society it will destroy us. Now who in their right mind would want a thing like that to happen? We live in an age of "peaceful co-existence" with communism. Everybody knows that.

And have you noticed the Birchers are those extremists who are always wanting you Americans to look up a candidate's voting record before you vote for him and see, regardless of his campaign pitch, just how he really voted. My goodness, just who do those Birchers think they are!

That is simply too much trouble for people like us; isn't it? We're content to let somebody else do our thinking for us when it comes to election; somebody like the national networks for instance. What Walter Cronkite says, goes. Isn't that right folks!

Oh, and do you know what else those crackpots are up to? They have a nationwide petition drive going, demanding that Congress stop ALL aid and trade with Communist countries who are supplying North Viet Nam. Thus far, they have submitted a MILLION signatures to Congress. Now who would sign that sort of thing? Probably somebody like the wife of the Commander of the USS Pueblo. You know the lady, the one you read about occasionally in the fine print of your newspaper.

And guess what else they've been doing. You'll really flip at this one. Those Birchers have been writing thousands of letters to their Congressmen demanding that hasty gun legislation be stopped. They're silly enough to think that there might be a similarity between the proposed gun registration in this country and the one in Cuba, Algeria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Latvia, and Rumania that occurred before the seizure of their governments by the communists. They're afraid that once guns are registered it would be simple for someone to merely go down the list and confiscate them, leaving the citizens unarmed. Well now really! Isn't that absurd? Naturally guns should be registered, the more the better, and baseball bats, kitchen knives, clubs, sticks and even stones. Yes, even stones. Because remember that boy, David, he killed a man by the name of Goliath with just a stone.

Those John Birchers, you really have to watch out for them. They believe people should become more concerned about the war in Viet Nam and demand a victory. They're demanding that we drop this "no-win policy" and go in there to win. They despise the "war games" the politicians are playing at the negotiation table while the graves are being filled with bodies of young men. Those Birchers will even tell you they think it's absurd that more bombs have been dropped in Viet Nam than in all of Europe in World War II, and we still aren't winning. Isn't that terribly uncouth of them to get so upset. They just can't seem to follow the line of "containment" and "no-win policy" Washington is putting out these days. Those Birchers really are talking through the top of their heads. They ought to let the experts do their thinking for them.

Yes indeed you'd better watch those know-it-all John Birchers. They're terribly deceptive. They thought it was awful and just plain hypocritical that a country has "In God We Trust" on its coins and yet banned prayer in the public schools.

And the sneakiest most underhanded trick of all are those John Birch bumper stickers that read "SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL POLICE". They thought by using those they could combat the charges of "police brutality" so often mentioned in the news media. You see they were afraid the police everywhere would become helpless from so much federal control. Remember, just like the police in Washington D.C., who were told to observe looting and destruction of private property but commanded not to shoot. Those bumper stickers are really a threat. We ought to think seriously about registering them, and it might not be a bad idea to confiscate them before the idea catches on too strong.

But their secret is out now! They've been exposed! To be such a "secret" organization they make one mistake; they get members that just can't stop talking about it. Yes sir, you get a John Birch started talking and you're liable to find out they're the most well read and well informed people in the community. And in this day and age that certainly is nonsense!

Susan Jane Birt

Dear Editor:

Relative to Richard Dean's Letter to The Editor, I would like to say, first that I am not a member of the John Birch Society nor TRAIN, but have attended meetings at the fairgrounds in which Ed Griffin and Tom Hollingsworth, a Green Beret, spoke. I have also done some research, myself, on the John Birch Society--and then too, I've done some on far-left groups like the Americans for Democratic Action and The Students for a Democratic Society. The latter leftist group has given an excellent picture of its self via the television and printed page when it tried to take over Columbia University not to mention the ugly scenes they have created at draft boards across the nation. On the local scene, this peaceful community tasted a bit of its rubbish when the DePauw chapter of the SDS tried to pass out anti-draft literature at our Greencastle High School. The Indianapolis Star and News editorials have given us quite an education lately on the SDS. Where is the scorn for this kind of ruffraff that is wrecking our universities and producing zealots that go out and attack patriotic groups which is so evident in this uninformed youth's letter? I have never found the Birchers to carry knives, lie down in the streets, and to lead marches that result in killings, loss of property and leave a city sick with division and hate.

So what if the Birch Society doesn't reveal its membership! What about the secrecy in the Masons, Fraternal organizations on the campus, The Knights of Columbus and the Vatican Diplomatic Corps?

Mr. Dean further states, "They believe that a small evil group of Communists plan and control the events of our personal lives and our nation's destiny". Mr. Dean should read J. Edgar Hoover's book, "Masters of Deceit" also "I Testify" by a negro undercover agent named Julia Brown who worked nine years for the FBI and other former undercover agents like Herbert Philbrick. The Kennedy brothers and King assassinations were all done by people who had definite ties and allegiance to communism. How could any true American who reads the printed page discount this? A lot of people thought the Kennedy brothers and King were the Godhead but the true facts declare it not to be so. Bobby Kennedy's mouthings were not to be depended upon since he changed his philosophy for whatever was politically expedient for his SELF. He started his career as an arch Conservative as a member of the late Senator Joseph McCarthy's investigating team and followed his anti-communist activities as an associate of Senator John McClellan whom he aided in investigating corrupt union leaders. From the posture on the right, he suddenly turned in the opposite direction, a radical about-face which coincided with his brother's bid for the Democratic nomination as President of the United States. It has now been revealed that Martin Luther King was some sort of an imposter too. The Indianapolis News on June 3, 1968, page 6 in an

1968 may see two 30 game winners

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

The major leagues, which haven't had one 30-game winner since 1934, may wind up the 1968 season with two in one year for the first time since 1912.

Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants and Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers remained right on the time table over the weekend, Marichal beating the Houston Astros 4-2 in 11 innings for his 19th victory Sunday and McLain defeating the Baltimore Orioles 9-0 for his 20th Saturday night.

Marichal is a few days ahead of the pace set by Dizzy Dean when he won 30 games for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1934 and McLain is just about even with the pace set by Lefty Grove when he won 31 games for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1930. Dean won his 20th game on Aug. 3 and Grove won his 20th on July 25.

The last time the majors have had two 30-game winners in one season was in 1912 when Joe Wood won 34 games and Walter Johnson won 32.

Marichal Scores

Marichal, now 19-4, singled past third base with two out in the 11th inning to drive in Jim Davenport with the tie-breaking run and scored the second run of the inning on a single by Ty Cline. It was the 15th consecutive complete game for Marichal, who allowed seven hits, struck out five batters and walked one.

Marichal had a 2-0 shutout until the seventh when Hector Torres beat out an infield hit and scored on Norm Miller's double.

The Cincinnati Reds defeated the New York Mets 5-3, the Chicago Cubs swept the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-3 and 1-0, the Pittsburgh Pirates drubbed the St. Louis Cardinals 7-1 and the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Atlanta Braves 3-0 in other National League games.

In the American League, the Baltimore Orioles topped the Detroit Tigers 5-1, the Cleveland Indians whipped the New York Yankees 3-2 and 4-1, the Boston Red Sox outslugged the Washington Senators 10-8, the Oakland Athletics shaded the Minnesota Twins 4-3 and the Chicago White Sox nipped the California Angels 2-1.

Lee May drove in three runs with two homers and Jim Maloney and Clay Carroll allowed only one hit—a double by Cleon Jones in the first inning—in the Reds' victory over the Mets. Maloney received credit for his ninth victory although Carroll pitched hitless ball for the last four innings.

Cubs Take Two
Randy Hundley drove in three runs with a two-run single and sacrifice fly in the first game and doubled home the only run of the nightcap as the Cubs swept their doubleheader before 42,261—the largest crowd at Wrigley Field in 20 years. Hundley's single was the key blow of a four-run fourth-inning rally which helped the Cubs spoil Don Drysdale's 500th major league appearance in the opener. Hundley's double in the fifth inning of the nightcap, following a single by Al Spangler, dealt Don Sutton the loss. Ken Holtzman pitched a four-hitter and struck out 10 batters for the Cubs in the second game.

Pitcher Al McBean hit the first grand slam of his career in the fifth inning and Roberto Clemente and Maury Wills had three hits each to lead the Pirates' 11-hit attack. McBean went the distance for his eighth victory as the Cardinals left 12 runners on base.

Larry Jackson pitched a three-hitter and Tony Taylor had three doubles and scored two runs for the Phillies. Jackson, who had a no-hitter until Felipe Alou singled with two out in the sixth inning, scored his 10th victory of the season and the 37th shutout of his NL career.

Horsemen's victory

LONDON (UPI)—Neal Shapiro was the only rider to come through a fault and out competition without an error Sunday as the United States team won the last chance stakes on the closing day's competition of the Royal International Horse Show at Wembley Stadium.

William Steinkraus, captain of the U.S. team, won the closing contest, the Daily Mail Cup Grand Prix, on Snowbound.

Munson sidelined

DETROIT (UPI)—Bill Munson, acquired from Los Angeles in the off season and expected to handle the quarterback chores for the Detroit Lions this year, will undergo minor surgery today.

Munson, obtained from the Rams for Milt Plum, Tom Watkins and Pat Studstill, is expected to miss the Lions' first two exhibition games after calcium deposits are removed from his arm.

COLOGNE, Germany (UPI)—South Africa's Barry Franklin fired a two-under-par 70 Sunday to win the West German Open Golf Championship with a 72-hole total of 285.

Race driver is killed

ZANDVOORT, Holland (UPI)—Death paid its third call on the British auto racing set Sunday.

Chris Lambert, a promising young driver, suffered fatal injuries when his Brabham Ford his another car and turned over during a Formula II Grand Prix of Zandvoort race.

The 24-year-old Lambert was pinned beneath the wreckage. Doctors said he died of a broken neck. Lambert was the third top-ranked British race driver killed this year and the fifth among world-class pilots.

Goossen a new slugger?

By United Press International

Greg Goossen, who has spent most of this season traveling between Indianapolis, Jacksonville and New York showed Sunday why he's regarded as a potential major league slugger.

Goossen drove in eight runs, blasting a three-run homer, a grand slammer and an RBI single to power the Mets to a 10-2 victory over the Richmond Braves.

In other International League action, Rochester and Buffalo split a doubleheader with Rochester taking the first 6-2 and Buffalo coming back in the nightcap 5-2. Toledo shut out Syracuse twice, 1-0 and 2-0 and Columbus took a doubleheader from Louisville 7-5 and 8-4.

Goossen started the season with the Indianapolis Indians of the Pacific Coast League and was called up by the New York Mets after the season was just two days old. He shuffled back and forth, never quite fulfilling his promise as a hitter.

His barrage carried Danny Frisella to an easy victory, his second since being sent down from the parent Mets last week for more work.

Gordon Lund smacked a solo homer as the Red Wings drubbed the Bisons in the opening game of their doubleheader. In the nightcap the Bisons scored four times in the first inning to put the game out of reach.

Toledo's Jack Dilauro scattered seven hits in hurling his third shutout in a row and eighth of the season as he upped his record to 10-0. Mike Marshall pitched his second shutout of the year in the nightcap, allowing just three hits as he evened his record at 9-9.

Two leave Football League, one for money, one for age

By STU CAMEN
UPI Sports Writer

For Ben Davidson, it's a matter of money. For Ron Kramer, it's a matter of age.

Davidson, the mustachioed, star defensive end of the American Football League champion Oakland Raiders, walked out of camp Thursday, stopping on the way to inform General Manager Al Davis he wants more money.

Kramer, a 10-year National Football League veteran with the Green Bay Packers and Detroit, received his unconditional release from the Lions Thursday.

"Ron has been a great player," Detroit Head Coach Joe Schmidt said after informing the 33-year-old, 6-foot-3, 240-pound tight end of the club's decision. "But, while he has played well for us, we had to make a decision at his position. We can carry only two tight ends during the season."

Decide on Gibbons
The Lions decided to go with veteran Jim Gibbons, 31, and Charlie Sanders, 22, a high draft choice from Minnesota.

Kramer joined the Packers in 1957 after completing a brilliant collegiate career at the University of Michigan. He played out his option with Green Bay in 1964 and joined the Lions the following year.

He equalled his one season high of 37 receptions in 1966, but was hampered by injuries most of last season, catching only four passes for 40 yards.

"I may make a few calls to some other clubs," Kramer said. "But, then again, I may decide to call it quits and hang 'em up."

While Kramer ponders retirement, the Raiders will ponder the threat issued by the 6-foot-8, 283-pound Davidson upon his departure from camp at Santa Rosa, Calif.

"I'm going to retire," said Davidson. The financial remuneration is not enough."

Find Replacement
Coach John Rauch's only comment was, "The problem is between Davidson and management. I hope he works it out, but if he doesn't, we'll just have to find a replacement for him."

Turn back the clock 30 years

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

San Diego Coach Sid Gillman would give his right arm to turn back the clock 30 years to gain revenge for an illegal tackle.

Gillman is 57 years old and a teacher of much younger men in the art of offensive and defensive pro football.

He was plying his trade Saturday night as his Chargers of the American Football League scrimmaged with camp neighbors, the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League. Suddenly he was slammed to the ground by New Orleans linebacker Fred Whittingham.

In 1935 Gillman had a brief fling with the Cleveland Rams. He was ready to take on the best pro football had to offer. Thirty-three years later he is no match for the giants of the game on a football field.

Gillman was attempting to separate two players during the scrimmage when Whittingham brought him down. The incident incited players on the sidelines to enter the melee.

New Orleans Coach Tom Fears, who played for the Los Angeles Rams when Gillman coached the club in the 1920s, helped his old boss restore order. Both had exhibition openers in mind this week as they tried to complete training camp schedules with a minimum of injuries.

The Saints help kick off the exhibition season Thursday night with a game against Los Angeles at Anaheim, Calif., and Washington of the NFL plays the Oilers of the AFL in Houston.

The world champion Green Bay Packers are favored to defeat the College All-Stars in the annual benefit game at Chicago Friday night. On Saturday, Cincinnati makes its AFL debut against visiting Kansas City and Chicago plays Dallas in an NFL pre-season clash at Canton, Ohio.

In inter-league action, Baltimore (NFL) is at Oakland (AFL) and San Francisco (NFL) is at San Diego.

Prix Victors

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI)—Nanni Galli and Nino Vaccarella of Italy and Lucien Bianchi of Belgium piloted an Alfa Romeo 33 prototype to victory Sunday in the 15th Grand Prix of the Mugello auto race, ending two years of domination by German Porsches.

The trio covered the 317.8 mile course in four hours, 22 minutes, 43.6 seconds, an average of 75.107 miles per hour.

His wife, Mardee, resides at Russellville, Route 1.

and go on from there."

A crowd of 33,814 was on hand at Green Bay Thursday night to watch an intrasquad game which saw the Packer offense beat the defense 10-0. Zeke Bratkowski passed five yards to Bob Long for a second period touchdown. Chuck Mercein kicked the extra point and Jerry Kramer booted a 14-yard field goal later in the quarter to account for all the scoring.

Signs with Saints
Veteran safetyman Ross Fichtner, placed on waivers last week by the Cleveland Browns because of a racial incident, signed a one year contract with the New Orleans Saints; veterans Aaron Thomas and Joe Morrison turned in impressive pass-catching performances in the New York Giants' scrimmage at Fairfield, Conn.; and sharp passing by quarterbacks Steve Spurrier, George Mira and John Brodie highlighted the San Francisco Forty Niner scrimmage at Santa Barbara, Calif.

The Pittsburgh Steelers finally came to terms with No. 1 draft choice Mike Taylor, an offensive tackle from Southern California; the Chicago Bears held their first full dress scrimmage with rookie flanker back Cecil Turner of California. Poly scoring the only touchdown on a 35-yard pass from Larry Rakestraw, and the San Diego Chargers announced that defensive tackle George Gross will undergo knee surgery Aug. 3 and will be sidelined six to eight weeks.

The city streets were death free last year. King's car apparently went out of control and struck a tree. He was dead on arrival at Putnam County Hospital.

Woman's View

By GAY PAULEY

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—As they say, turn about's fair play. Certainly the statements holds true in the fashion world. First, we women took the men's trousers for our pants suits, copied men's hats for our heads, snatched their shirts for sportswear, started wearing their cravats and their brogan shoes.

Now, the men have turned on us. They've copied our beads to go with their Nehru jackets, taken our ruffles for their shirts, let their hair down literally to their shoulders, started buying harem pajamas or night shifts in psychedelic prints, and worrying about how the smell—spicy, woody, citrusy.

Now, add on another switch. The men are starting to carry handbags. This latest fashion for men had its start far as I can determine around Father's Day when a couple of handbag manufacturers ventured into purses for men.

Orders Promising
Now, several are handing the purse strings over to men again and the manufacturers with whom I talked say buyers' orders are promising and that in some instances there have been reorders.

Starting the thought that a man should carry a handbag? Not at all, reports Trudy Connolly, editor of the trade publication, Handbags & Accessories. With a camera in hand, she and Lee Stammer, a handbag designer, made a "trial run" the length of Fifth Avenue midtown, Stammer carrying one of the men's handbags.

"No one turned a hair," said Miss Connolly. "All I got were pictures of people looking the other way."

"I carried one all over Europe," said Sam Smith, designer-executive with Margolin, a firm in its 90th year. "No one gave me a fishy eye."

Masculine Look
The manufacturers of the men's bags are careful of two things: they style the carryalls in masculine looking materials like canvas and leather (rough cowhide is a favorite) or canvas-leather combinations and in masculine looking design like camera or binocular cases. And they're marketing them through men's departments in stores, not through regular handbag counters.

Some of the styles also are variations of brief case or duffel bag and colors too are masculine—autumn hues, plus brown and black.

Almost all come with out side pockets or compartments and are carried via shoulder strap. Their names to promote the masculine. Park Lane, for instance, has registered its trade name, "Male Bag". Ruth Saltz at Sabel Handbags uses whipcords and unpolished leathers in her "Gentry" and "Now Voyager" styles.

Actually, there's nothing new about men carrying handbags. Miss Connolly said her research turned up the news that ancient Persians and Egyptians carried them. So did the Elizabethan kings.

Styles Set Trend
Designers like Roger Schoenfeld of Park Lane and Smith at Margolin credit the new trend to the styles in men's wear in general. Suits are tighter, and the Edwardian revivals and the Nehru jackets just about do away with the standard pockets.

"I bought two suits in Europe," said Smith, "and I couldn't get a pack of cigarettes in the pockets."

All I can say is, if the handbags catch on, we women can turn the tables even further and rib the men about what they carry in their purses. For what they've been carrying in their pockets is an astounding amount of stuff.

I went through my husband's pockets—in the interest of research of course—and turned up among other items: wallet, reading glasses, cigarettes, lighter, a couple of partially used books of matches, flints, about a quarter of a pound of small change, two handkerchiefs, key chain and some keys long since useless; a whole sheaf of credit and travel cards; social security card; driver's license; voter registration card; a certification of "satisfactory service" as an officer in the U.S. Navy in World War II; a nail file; a certificate showing he'd crossed the international dateline, and two letters which I'd asked him to mail last week.

DEAR HELOISE: I thought of a great way to save on bibs, as our little boy, 9 months old, is now teething.

I put his plastic-backed bib on him so that the plastic side is out when I feed him his cereal, fruit and vegetables. Then when he is through eating, it is no trouble to wipe off the plastic with a damp cloth, dry it and turn it over to the cloth side to catch the drooling.

I don't know why I never thought of this before.

—Letter to editor

article by Paul Scott entitled, "New Leads On King Assassination" says several American communists were known to have been associated with King including on who wrote speeches for him in the past. So I hardly think a nation who has had three assassinations in four and one-half years could be pawned off as "nonsense." None of these assassins have been known to be Birchers, Republicans or right-wingers. Evidently its more blessed to be an assassin just as long as you are not a Bircher or some other patriotic group that still thinks America is the greatest nation on earth.

It's good to read Mr. Dean's findings; the war strategy and the secrecy element are sacred compared to the hell and anarchy that the left wing crowd is stirring up across our nation. I also note that the left wing crowd couldn't care less about "our boys and the Pueblo".

If anyone cares to check and see if he has been brain washed by the liberal establishment in Washington or the campus just use a little common sense and attend one of the TRAIN meetings like I did and do a little research and at the same time take a good look out on the horizon of every day events and I am sure you'll see, as I did, that letters like Mr. Dean's are a by-product of the communists to discredit a fine organization like The Birch Society.

I think it also significant this election year, that it is this type of youths who are willing dupes of pink liberalism, long-bearded college professors who sick them on and draft-dodgers and LSD long haired hippies that Senator Eugene McCarthy is making his pitch for. He too thinks communists threats are an illusion, and seeks to discredit J. Edgar Hoover.

So don't try to smear The Birch Society as it has been investigated and come out clean. Harness this wasted energy and put it to work on The UN Charter, Senator Fulbright or better yet Senator McCarthy's asinine remark that all Americans are to blame for Bobby Kennedy's assassination.

Considered

By GEORGE J. MARDER
MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Two Nelson Rockefeller supporters—Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York—are still under consideration as running mates by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The inclusion of the two prominent backers of the New York governor as possible Nixon choices for the GOP vice presidential nomination was disclosed by a close Nixon associate.

There was some speculation that Percy, until recently a fence sitter, had talked himself out of any consideration for a place on a ticket headed by Nixon by his recent endorsement of Rockefeller.

Lindsay, also a backer of the governor, was supposed to be out of the running because he and Nixon both come from New York. The Constitution bars a state's electoral votes from going to two native sons.

Percy announced support for the New York governor last week, running counter to the sentiment in the Illinois delegation. Percy said his views on major issues were closer to Rockefeller's than to Nixon's.

However an official in the Nixon camp acknowledged that Percy's endorsement of Rockefeller could make the Illinois senator more attractive as a Nixon running mate. It would be a gesture to close ranks with the opposition, and demonstrate that the GOP liberal wing would get representation in a Nixon administration.

About 15 persons have been discussed in the Nixon camp as meeting the standards the former vice president's associates believe should be applied in selecting a running mate.

In discussing the constitutional problem, the Nixon associate said residency would be no serious problem. The Nixon camp said if that were considered not feasible there would be no concern about sacrificing the New York electoral votes for vice president in the belief that if the Republican ticket won in New York, it would indicate a landslide and there would be electoral votes to spare elsewhere.

MAGIC, ILLUSIVE MAGIC, will be the theme of a special show scheduled for the Putnam County Fair. The Huston and Company Magic Illusion Show will be presented Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the arena.

Magic created for Putnam County Fair

Huston and Company, America's largest magic illusion show, will give a free public performance in the arena at the Putnam County Fair, at 8 p.m. Tuesday July 30.

The famous floating of a woman in air above the state, is featured. The secret of this magic was so closely guarded that it has not been seen on the stage since the world famous Harry Blackstone died. Huston is also the only magician today who dares to present the burning of a living witch. He steps above the sawing of a woman in half and visibly shows the woman divided into two parts.

Huston recently combined his show with another large illusion show so that he can present the spectacular show that is touring this season. Eight tons of magic equipment and a cost of 12 people is required, plus doves, ducks, rabbits and pretty girls.

Huston and Company goes on to the Marion County Fair for two free public performances Aug. 5 and 6 and a one and one-half paid stage show Aug. 9.

Pope says 'No' to use of Pill

By RAY MOSELEY
VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI today overruled Roman Catholic liberals and condemned the pill and all other artificial means of birth control.

The Pope also appealed to heads of government around the world to outlaw programs involving artificial birth control.

In a 38-page encyclical to his bishops, the pontiff upheld centuries of church law against demands for change.

Paul said, "The direct interruption of the generative process already begun... (is) to be absolutely excluded as licit means of regulating birth."

The 70-year-old pontiff said the ban—in some of the strongest, most unequivocal words of his pontificate—also applies to abortion, permanent or temporary sterilization and to every act that would "render procreation impossible."

Thus the Pope rejected the recommendation of a liberal majority of his birth control study commission. Vatican observers predicted today's document would provoke a major crisis within the church.

Msr. Ferdinando Lambruschini, the Vatican theologian who announced the Pope's decision to a crowded news conference, called it "an act of great courage by the Pope."

The monsignor said Paul acted "knowing it would not be easily accepted by all."

The Pope did not exercise the church doctrine of papal infallibility in making his pronouncement. But, like all decrees and decisions of a Pope, it must be accepted and obeyed by all church members, according to Catholic teaching. A Pope speaks "infallibly" only on matters of faith and morals. The last such infallible declaration came in 1950 in Pope Pius XII's proclamation of the dogma of the assumption of Mary.

The Pope said in the encyclical, "God has wisely disposed natural laws and rhythms of fecundity which of themselves cause a separation in the succession of births."

"Nonetheless the church, calling men back to the observance of the norms of the natural law, as interpreted by her constant doctrine, teaches that each and every marriage act must remain open to the transmission of life."

The Pope re-emphasized the teachings of his predecessors who have held down through the ages that all contraception is evil.

Paul particularly stressed a 1961 statement by the late Pope John XXIII that "human life is sacred." The title of today's document was "Human Life."

Appeals to Leaders
In an appeal to world leaders, he said, "Do not allow the morality of your peoples to be degraded, do not permit that by legal means practices contrary to the natural and divine law be introduced into that fundamental cell, the family."

He said governments must and can solve the problem of overpopulation by other means—"namely, the way of a provident policy for the family, a wide education of peoples in respect of the moral law and the liberty of citizens."

Paul specifically rejected the liberal contention that birth control should be permitted to safeguard or promote individual or family well being.

Nixon plans autumn campaign in city ghettos

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon, confident of winning the Republican presidential nomination, is planning and autumn campaign which will concentrate on pivotal states and carry him into big city ghettos.

Nixon's proposed battle plan represents a marked shift from his unsuccessful 1960 campaign in which he lost the presidency to John F. Kennedy in the industrial states and the big cities of the East.

A glimpse of Nixon's plan was given by his campaign advisers as a sizeable force of Republican leaders gathered in this resort city for the preliminaries of the party's 1968 national convention which opens a week from today.

Dirksen Presides
Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, chairman of the temporary platform committee, was on the scene to preside over the start of hearings on the party's basic campaign document on which the Republican nominee will stand or fall in November.

Supporters of both Nixon and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, the chief active contenders for the nomination, saw no battles in sight over the platform.

There were bitter platform quarrels at both the 1960 and 1964 Republican conventions which were blamed in part at least for subsequent GOP presidential defeats at the hands of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Early talks between key members of the 1968 platform committee were reported to have glowed with harmony. Rockefeller backers gave no indication they sought a convention test over any of the platform plans, including Vietnam.

Despite this show of amity there was sharp disagreement between the Nixon and Rockefeller camps as to how the delegates were lined up at this point.

Nixon's lieutenants claimed privately that their man had more than the 667 votes needed to win a first ballot nomination. But a memorandum circulated by Rockefeller forces said Nixon was more than 150 votes short of the magic number and predicted that his total would

Nixon's plan to concentrate on pivotal states was a significant reversal of his 1960 campaign against Kennedy, which was notable for fulfilling his promise to campaign in all 50 states. Nixon has since indicated this was a mistake because it left him exhausted and prevented him from concentrating on large, closely congested states.

Viet Cong destroy planes

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong guerrillas raced down the flight line at the American fighter base at Tuy Hoa today, hurling satchels of explosives that destroyed two four-engine C130 cargo planes and damaged jet aircraft.

U.S. military police chased the Communists and killed nine of them. One American trooper was wounded in the battle of the flight line.

The Viet Cong darted onto the base, 240 miles northeast of Saigon, during a barrage by their mortar and rocket crews.

The flash of exploding aviation gasoline and dynamite lit up the predawn coastal sky. In the light of the blasts, the military police spotted the running bomb throwers and opened fire.

Besides the two big C130 Hercules transports, at least one F100 Supersabre was reported damaged. Other, unidentified craft also were hit, military spokesmen said.

The attack was similar in style to that made against the Udon base Friday, the first guerrilla strike against an American base in Thailand.

In another action South Vietnamese troops killed at least 64 Communists and captured 12 in an eight-hour fight Sunday south of Da Nang, 360 miles north of Saigon. The Communists have been reported building up in the area for another assault against Da Nang, the nation's second largest city.

The two diamond response was negative, but Fishbein's leap to three notrump announced a few scattered values. Fry later contracted for a slam in clubs.

Six clubs would ordinarily go down one, but Fry made the slam by executing one of the neatest swindles ever recorded. West had a difficult choice.

Nobel Prize winner dies

GOETTINGEN, Germany (UPI)—When Otto Hahn realized the potential of his discovery he threatened to kill himself rather than tell Adolf Hitler.

When the allies dropped the first atomic bomb his genius had made possible Hahn considered suicide again.

Hahn finally died of a heart attack Sunday, 30 years after the discovery of nuclear fission that won him a Nobel Prize but which he came to regret. He was 89.

On Dec. 18, 1938, Hahn, a professor at the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute in Berlin, raised the curtain of the atomic age by bombarding uranium with neutrons. He didn't fully realize the implications of his feat but other scientists did.

One of them, the late Dr. Lise Meitner, a Jewish colleague who was forced to flee Nazi Germany, tipped off allied scientists. They began to build the bomb.

By that time Hahn saw the potential too. But, instead of developing nuclear weapons for the Nazis, Hahn encouraged top-ranking German scientists to stick to peaceful nuclear research.

"If Hitler gets an atomic bomb I shall kill myself," Hahn confided to trusted colleagues shortly after the outbreak of World War II.

Largely as a result of his prestigious influence, Third Reich scientists always stressed the difficulties and enormous costs of developing nuclear weapons, influencing Hitler against the project.

The Americans captured Hahn in April 1945. Interned in a British country home in August 1945, he learned the bomb he shunned had been dropped on Hiroshima.

"But this is horrible," Hahn cried. He wept and collapsed in bed. He later said he spent the night considering suicide.

The world judged differently. Hahn still was interned when he was awarded the 1944 Nobel chemistry prize in November 1945.

Search for killer in Huntington

HUNTINGTON, Ind. (UPI)—Authorities here were searching for a man believed to have fatally shot Joseph Lyles, 22, Huntington, and to have stabbed and raped Karen Cogar, 19, Huntington, Saturday night.

Police said the couple were parked along a Huntington County road when a man approached their car, shot Lyle in the back with a .22-caliber rifle, and later raped the girl.

Miss Cogar told police she was thrown into the trunk of the assailant's car and taken to a wooded area where he stabbed her as she resisted his advances. She said he dragged her into the woods and, with her hands tied, stripped and raped her.

Miss Cogar was listed in good condition in Huntington County Hospital Sunday.

Police apprehended one suspect Sunday and took him to the girl's hospital room for identification, but said they are investigating a lead on a different suspect.

--TV review

In addition, NBC-TV will precede "Laugh-In" with the long-running Barbara Eden series, "I Dream of Jeannie"—a long run in television meaning anything you can still remember the title of.

So NBC-TV will go with three shows on Monday nights against CBS-TV's five. And many eyes are on CBS-TV to see whether Griffith's retirement from his series, plus the scheduling of a replacement show, will hurt the network's lineup.

The new series, starring Ken Berry, is called "Mayberry R.F.D.," and is similar in tone to the Griffith show, and in fact is set in the same southern locale.

Added Attractions
ABC-TV doesn't figure, at this point, to give real ratings competition to CBS-TV and NBC-TV on Mondays, but it will drain off some of the audience with the following lineup:

"The Avengers," "Peyton Place," "The Outcasts" (a new hour western with white an-Negro stars) and "The Big Valley."

Lucille Ball, however, may find herself a little more pressed in the ratings than usual. "Laugh-In" has done so well against her that there was talk of moving her series. Now she will also face the competition of "Peyton Place."

Miss Ball, however, usually manages to meet every challenge. She always seems to have another ace up her sleeve. In the coming season, for instance, her son and daughter will join her as regulars on her series.

Mid-east clash

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Israeli troops clashed with Jordanian forces and Arab guerrillas at several points along with Jordan River Sunday and Israeli officials said two guerrillas were killed. No Israeli casualties were reported.

Hose hint

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A radiator hose that becomes spongy inside because of lengthy contact with hot water may cause the car engine to overheat, says the California State Automobile Association.

Extension news

By JERRY WILLIAMS
County Youth Agent

The Putnam County Fair opens, Sunday, with the Dress Revue. Many of the girls enrolled in clothing projects will model their garments at the inside arena at the fairgrounds. Immediately following the Dress Revue there will be a dedication of the new flag pole. This flag pole was dedicated to the fair by the Lee Toney family as a memorial to their son, Ronnie. He lost his life in an auto accident while going home from a Junior Leader meeting. The flag pole will add a lot to the fairgrounds. Judge Francis Hamilton will speak at the dedication along with the Rev. Kyle Miller. Members of 4-H and F.F.A. will raise the flags. I hope that many of you come to see the dedication of the memorial. The dedication will start immediately following the Dress Revue at approximately 4 p.m.

The Sunday evening church service will start at 7:30 p.m., and it will also be held in the inside arena. Representative John Thomas, Brazil, will be the speaker. Thomas is the district leader in the Methodist Church. The 4-H Chorus and the Home Economics Chorus will sing special numbers.

On Monday the 4-H Swine Show will start the morning events. The day will be climaxed by the Queen Contest. The Queen Contest will be held in the outside arena. Let's hope that it does not rain at the fair. Another attraction will be the Young America Fair. This tent is located next to the Industrial Building. There will be dancing every evening starting at 7:30 p.m. There will be the battle of the bands which should provide interesting sounds.

Tuesday's program will include the open class pig show, Young America Fair, the amateur talent contest, and the 4-H fitting contest. The talent contest will be held in the outside arena and will start at 7:30 p.m. Right before the talent contest at 6:30, the Greencastle Band will perform in the outside arena. The high school band concerts are a new attraction this year.

If you have ever wondered what went into the fitting of an animal for show, come to the fitting contest. Boys and girls showing beef, sheep, pigs, and dairy will be competing to see who can do the best job of getting an animal ready to show.

Wednesday fair goers can see the sheep show, 4-H horse and pony show, Young America fair, talent contest, and the Cloverdale band concert. Other attractions will be the chicken barbecue contest and the flower arrangement contest.

Thursday's program will feature the beef show, horse and pony show, and the 4-H livestock sale. 4-H animals will be auctioned to buyers on Thursday evening.

Friday will provide the dairy show, garden tractor pull, big tractor pull, Young America Fair, and the Showmanship finals. The gold medal calf show, the open class horse show, antique car display, teen dance, square dance, tractor operator's contest, and the finals of the talent contest will take place on Saturday. As you can see, there will be a lot of activity at the 1968 Putnam County Fair.

Horticultural

Tips

BLOSSOM-END ROT

This plant disease is the result of unfavorable conditions of the environment (temperature, soil, moisture, nutrient supply and balance, etc.). Blossom-end rot occurs to some extent wherever tomatoes are grown. It is most likely to occur when the tomatoes are about half grown, but it can occur any time while the fruit is developing.

A small, water-soaked spot first develops at or near the stem end of the infected tomatoes. The spot enlarges and darkens, and during the process becomes sunken and leathery.

Blossom-end rot is most prevalent during prolonged dry periods that occur while the plant is making vigorous growth. It may also occur after periods of abundant rain. Heavy applications of nitrogen fertilizer and extreme fluctuations in moisture favor the disease.

CONTROL: "At planting time" apply three pounds of 12-12-12 or similar analysis fertilizer for each 100 sq. ft. of garden area. Avoid excessive use of nitrogen fertilizers. "Water during periods of dry weather." "Mulch to conserve moisture."

Punished enough

DARTMOOR, England (UPI)—Prison officers decided to take no disciplinary action against eight prisoners who got drunk on a brand of moonshine made of molasses and yeast. "Their hangovers have to be seen to be believed," an official said.

Cheap chicken

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sign on a suburban supermarket: "Chicken 29 cents a pound—our coop runneth over."

Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The percentage of Americans who do hard manual labor is steadily declining, and this is bringing about certain changes in our body chemistry.

For one thing, our gastric juices are becoming sluggish, making it difficult for us to digest certain foods.

Nowhere is this more vividly illustrated than in the case of dried beans.

Ever since the founding of our republic, beans have been a bulwark of democracy. They are interwoven into our language. ("You're full of beans." "You'll never amount to a hill of beans," etc.)

They are an important part of our history and culture. ("The Boston Bean Party," etc.)

Drop in Consumption But back in 1953, the California Lima Bean Advisory Board discovered an alarming drop in per capita bean consumption. It appeared we were turning our backs on one of the things that had helped make this country great.

A consumer study disclosed, however, that there was nothing subversive in the bean gap. Rather, the decline was attributed to (1) the length of time it takes to cook beans, and (2) difficulty in digesting them.

I don't know what the ratio is, but judging from my own experience if it takes three hours to cook a pot of beans, it takes three days to digest them.

Any, as Rep. John J. McFall, D-Calif., pointed out in the congressional record recently, beans had become "ill fitted to the hurried habits and sedentary occupations of modern life."

Springs into Action Once it became aware of the situation, the bean board immediately sprang into action. Aided by federal grants and other contributions, it organized a program aimed at restoring the bean to its former position of power and glory.

Thus began another thrilling chapter in the annals of scientific research—a chapter that brings us to the brink of what McFall describes as a "dramatic breakthrough."

Already, he reports, "two amazing quick-cooking dry bean products" have been developed in the laboratory. More important, it now appears that science may be on the verge of taking the indigestibility out of beans.

When and if that comes to pass, there is hope for a fumeless onion and a radish with the after-taste removed.

Stop trash burning in open dumps

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—Regulations adopted Thursday by the Indiana Air Pollution Control Board would prohibit open burning of thousands of open dump burning sites around the state.

Air control regulations adopted by the board must be approved by Governor Branigan and Atty. Gen. John J. Dillon before they can become effective. The regulations adopted Thursday govern the emission of particulate matter into the Indiana atmosphere.

One of the regulations would prohibit open burning at dumps, which technical secretary Perry E. Miller said probably number 3,000 to 4,000.

The regulation was not aimed at the backyard incinerator, he said.

Other regulations cover the control of emissions from burning of fuels for indirect heating; smoke and other visible emissions from chimneys; allowable emissions from industry based on amounts of raw materials used, and the control of emissions from incinerators.

Hollywood news

By VERNON SCOTT UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The overwhelming burden of being the first black performer to carry a weekly television series has fallen on the slender shoulders of singer Diahann Carroll.

Unlike Bill Cosby, who had Robert Culph at his side, Diahann will go it alone.

It's a tough proposition for any black star, particularly a woman. But one suspects Diahann will meet the challenge and win.

Beginning this fall she will star for NBC-TV in "Julia," playing a middle class widow with a 6-year-old son. Her show has already been rapped by one magazine critic because it is fantasy, not reality—and the critic hadn't even seen the pilot.

Diahann is the first to admit "Julia" won't depict the average black woman. "She's not supposed to be a reflection of the great majority of young black women. But she does reflect thousands of black women in the United States."

"Television is not a reflection of life in the United States either. 'Julia' will have a lot of advantages that many blacks and whites don't have; stemming from education. She also has a great inner drive."

Will ghetto dwellers and other blacks be offended by the material wealth and affluence enjoyed by "Julia?"

"I'm sure there are many people who watch TV who don't have what the Beverly Hills lites have," Diahann answered with a smile.

"The very fact that 'Julia' is going on the air with a black woman as its star is a very good and positive thing. Starting from that premise there are many truths that can be accomplished once we are on the air and have a kind of acceptance."

Diahann is beautiful. Her voice is soft, her convictions resolute.

She believes her show will help discredit racism.

"We live in a segregated society," she said matter-of-factly. "Julia will allow millions of white people who have not been exposed to black middle class society at all to know one another a little better."

By invitation

BARDSLEY, England (UPI)—The congregation had just begun the second stanza of "Come Gracious Spirit, Heavenly Dove," when a pigeon fluttered into the church and lit on Gladys Knowles' Sunday straw hat.

Mrs. Knowles, still singing, rose from her seat and walked slowly out of the church with the unexpected visitor, perched contentedly atop her head.
